

Exhibits and Displays at the Sturgis Library

It is part of the Sturgis Library's mission to:

- Support the lifelong pursuit of personal, vocational, cultural, and intellectual enrichment.
- Foster literacy, curiosity, and creativity in library users of all ages.
- Promote the free exchange of ideas and serves as a community meeting place.

To that end, we host exhibits and displays by individuals and organizations that highlight artwork, photography, crafts, collections, or that provide information to the public.

GUIDELINES

1. Individuals and organizations may reserve the exhibit area or one of the display cases for one month at a time. Priority is given to library-related displays prepared by staff members.
2. Individuals and organizations will plan and execute their own displays and exhibits. They will familiarize themselves with the Library's exhibit space prior to the exhibit. They will provide supporting literature or information, signage, background material, and price lists. They will remove their exhibit on the agreed-upon date.
3. The Library reserves the right to refuse to exhibit and display materials it deems unsuitable, or those materials that do not support its mission.
4. The Sturgis Library will promote the exhibits and displays in their monthly newsletter and on their website. Information about the exhibit or display, or biographical information about the artist/exhibitor, should be provided to the library prior to the exhibit.
5. If an artist is offering their artwork or crafts for sale, they will work with the Library Director to establish a procedure for sale of items. The Library will receive 25% of the sale price as commission. The artist should prepare a price list sheet for staff to record sales, and provide a large manila envelope or container where staff can deposit proceeds from the sales. At the end of the exhibit, the artist/exhibitor will provide the library with the commission either in cash or by check.
6. The Library is happy to work with exhibitors to schedule an exhibit opening or gathering to highlight the exhibit as long as it falls within the Library's regularly open hours and is open at no charge to the public.
