This pre-printed family record book of early 20th century era contains many family lines, with indications that they are branches of the Mason family. Some lines claim lineage going back to William the Conqueror. One note indicates the volume is a gift of Herbert McKinney, but no Sturgis Library records remain of the transaction. The initials AOM are written on the cover and may refer to Aaron Mason, a Revolutionary War soldier, and there is a "M" written on the spine, indicating that this volume was originally one of a series.
